Instructions and Answer key

You will need: one copy of the Student A worksheet and one copy of the Student B worksheet per pair

- Detach the Movement verbs worksheets from the pictures before the lesson.
- Divide students into pairs. Give Student A and B a copy of their respective worksheets. Students cannot look at each other's pictures.
- Pre-teach any difficult vocabulary. Students have to describe the pictures on their worksheet to their partner and decide on the correct order of the pictures. Make sure they do not look at their partner's worksheets.
- When a pair has decided on the correct order, they may look at both worksheets and check their answers. Check the correct order with the whole class (see Answer key).
- Give a copy of the Movement verbs worksheet to each student. Individually or in pairs, students match each verb with a picture using a dictionary to help them. Check answers with the whole class (see Answer key). Note that there can be more than one correct answer for some of the verbs.
- Students then work individually or in pairs and write the story in the past, using narrative tenses and the vocabulary from the worksheet (see Answer key for a sample answer).

Story: sample answer

Sidney was walking home from school one day, eating an ice cream, when he saw a poster for a circus. The advert said that the circus had been travelling around the country since January and was going to be in town that evening. (picture D) He turned the corner and saw a big circus procession walking along the main street. There were jugglers, acrobats, clowns and a huge elephant. He stood and watched them as they walked past. (picture I) Sidney walked up to the elephant and offered him his ice cream, which the elephant took in its trunk. (picture C) He then rushed home to tell his parents what he had seen and ask them if they could go. They said yes. (picture K)

The next day Sidney and his parents went to see the circus. They drove up to the entrance gate and someone took the tickets. (picture L) They joined the end of a queue and while they were waiting, Sidney saw a door which said 'DANGER – NO ENTRY', so he wandered off to have a look. (picture A) When he opened the door, he realised that he was in the tiger cage. The tigers didn't look very friendly! One of the tigers jumped off his stool and walked up to Sidney. He was very frightened and wanted to run away. (picture G) The tiger was just about to bite Sidney's head off when something lifted him up. It was the elephant he had met earlier! (picture J) The elephant put Sidney on his neck and walked off. (picture F) Meanwhile, Sidney's parents had realised that he was missing and were running around the car park looking for him. (picture B) Then they saw the elephant walking along with Sidney on his shoulders! (picture H) They run up to the elephant and Sidney told them what had happened. The elephant took Sidney off his shoulders and gave him back to his parents. (picture E)
